

Best Available Copy

IN THE SPECIFICATIONS

Please delete the Abstract and enter the following substitute Abstract:

A method of determining the distribution of shales, sands and water in a reservoir including laminated shaly sands using vertical and horizontal conductivities derived from nuclear, NMR, and multi-component induction data such as from a Multicomponent Induction Logging Tool

10/757,051

2